BETTER TIMES ABROAD.

Signs of a Return of Commercial Activity in England.

NEW YORK, March 1.—A dispatch from London says: Something in the nature of a silver lining to the cloud of commercial depression that has been hovering over Great Britain for a year will be the return of the government board of trade for the first two months of 1894, which will be issued in a few days.

It is given out at Whitehall that the final footings of the figures demonstrate that the political economists who months ago saw signs of a commercial revival were not very wise of the mark. The increase in the value of imports for the two months as compared with the same period of last year is in the neighborhood of $50,000,000, and the increase in the value of exports in the neighborhood of $20,000,000.

A large increase is shown in the table of imports from foreign countries and British possessions. It is understood that a foot note to the report will say that exports to the United States have not been up to expectations owing to the unsettled condition of action on the tariff, and that, but for this fact, the statement for the two months would have been much more favorable.

The passage of the tariff bill by the Senate, it is thought, would result in an immediate and brief increase of exports to the United States.

SECY MORTON'S EFFIGY.

The Men Who Hang Him in Effigy Convicted of Criminal Libel.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., March 1.—The case of the Commonwealth of Nebraska against Z. T. White, charged with criminal libel against Secretary of Agriculture J. Sterling Morton and his son, the secretary being in the hanging in effigy of the princess a few weeks ago has ended.

A jury was sequestered with some difficulty and a number of witnesses testified, their evidence generally being very damaging to White's cause. The jury retired and were out but a few minutes when they returned "with a verdict of 'Guilty as Indicted.' The penalty of the offense is a fine of $500 or six months in the county jail, or both, at the discretion of the court. The jury recommended leniency.

BATTLE WITH STRIKERS.

An Engagement Occurs at Eagle, Va., in Which a Man Is Killed.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 1.—Dispatches from Eagle report a meeting of strikers at New River and Mount Ebom yesterday, about a mile east of Eagle. About 100 men were present. It was determined to proceed to Eagle and force the working miners to come out. They went down to Wyant's mines at Eagle, about 300 strong, without organization, but with fifty guns. The working miners had taken refuge in the tipple well armed. The strikers approached by the mountain above the tipple, and when within about 100 yards began firing. The men in the tipple returned it with telling effect, killing one man and wounding several.

Governor McCorkle has ordered company K of the national guard of this city, and company G of Huntington to the scene of the strike.

The jury, after a brief consideration, returned a verdict of guilty, and Judge Morris sentenced Donjan to the penitentiary for eighteen months.

MOORE-HARLAN TRAGEDY.

The Murderer Surrenders Himself to a Justice—He Initiates Self-Defense.

JEROME CITY, Mo., March 1.—Charles H. Harlan, who shot and killed Mr. Charles W. Moore on the ferry boat at this place, surrendered to a justice of the peace at Barbersville, Calhoun county, and is now in the custody of the sheriff of that county. Harlan has made no statement whatever, except to say that "I am a desperate case and I am sorry for it." He also intimated that he did it in self-defense, but the facts in the case show that he followed Moore all the time, and the latter used his utmost endeavor to evade the man who killed him.

HANDS BY A THREAD.

Congressman Wilson Is in an Extremely Critical Condition.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 1.—Chairman Wilson, who is lying ill of typhoid fever at Guadalajara, was not reported so well yesterday. His temperature is up to 103 degrees. It was supposed that the crisis had arrived at last. Senator Morgan criticizes him not satisfied with daily bulletins, and has asked for four reports every day until all danger is past on the end comes. Mr. Wilson is so very weak that his life seems to hang by a very slender thread.

Several delegations will be sent to Washington to fight the proposed legislation.

Hold Up by Desperadoes.

EL PASO, Tex., March 1.—Three hundred men entered the only store in the village of Mattheuson, which also contains the postoffice, robbed the cash drawer of everything in it about $300, and helped themselves to pretty much everything else that was portable and then left on their horses. DID NOTHING.

Democratic Caucus Yesterday

Barren of Results.

Only One Vote Taken and That Lost.

TO BE RECOMMITTED.

Senator Pugh Won't be Bound by Caucus.

the whole power of the United States represented in that harbor by two great warships, equipped with guns which could burn the city to ashes in one hour, to say firmly and with dignity, "we will never surrender," enabled them to fortify their government building, to call for volunteers and determine deliberately that they would resist the landing of United States troops to the very death and if necessary to fire on the army that they loved better than their lives—such courage could only have Divinely inspired.

Referring to Mr. Willis' speech welcoming Haynes into the family of nations, Mr. Frye said that while he was uttering those words of friendship and good will he carried in his pocket instructions to destroy forever that government which he was so effusively welcoming.

At 1:25 p.m. Mr. Frye indicated a willingness to defer the remainder of his remarks until to-day, so that he might not interfere with the Democratic caucus, because, as he said, he wanted more Democrats to hear him, and, on motion of Mr. Morgan, Democrat, Alabama, the senate went into executive session and after fifteen minutes spent considering executive business the doors were reopened, and after transaction of some minor business the senate, at 2:30, adjourned.

THE BROKEN DEADLOCK.

The Now-You-See-It and Now-You-Don't Game in the House.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The deadlock in the house was broken yesterday after two weeks of continuous filibustering against the Bland seigniorage bill, and no sooner had the quorum been procured than the house managers brought in a special order to crush the filibusters and bring the bill to a direct vote after two hours of additional debate. Although Mr. Bland secured 134 votes when the deadlock was broken, several Eastern Democrats, including Messrs. Cummings, Clancy and Mariner, of New York, and Dunn, of New Jersey, refusing to sit longer with the filibusters, Messrs. Doolittle, Attkin, Ellis, of Oregon, and Lacey, Republicans, stopped voting on the next vote, and the previous question, on the adoption of the order, was only sustained by one more than a quorum. When it came to adopting the special order, Messrs. Bowers, Lucas, Pichler, Republican, and Dunn, Democrat, again joined the silent host and the quorum was lost, only 176 members responding to their names. The fight will be resumed again to-day, and if a quorum is secured on the adoption of the order, a vote on the passage of the bill cannot be prevented by specific duty. The bill, as it now stands, discriminated in favor of New England and against the middle states.

Senator Hanson of North Carolina spoke at some length and urged party harmony.

Mr. Jones of the sub-committee spoke in an explanatory way of the bill, giving many details of the measure. He thought it would be very poor policy to change the work of the committee radically.

Senators Morgan and Pugh spoke for iron ore. Senator Berry of Arkansas spoke in support of the bill as framed. Senator Pugh's motion for a duty on iron ore had been made and he was anxious for a vote, out of the courtesy of Senator Bland to withdraw.

The pending question was the resolution of Senator Hayes, instructing the House committee to make a number of changes in the bill, in order to get a vote on the iron ore proposition.

Senator Martin withdrew his suggestion, and the vote was taken with the result above noted, which practically put an end to the caucus.

One member of the finance committee said he expected that the bill would be reported to the full committee by Saturday, and efforts will be made to get it into the senate early next week. The Republicans took upon the result of the caucus as one of distinct advantage to them and possibly disastrous to the bill.

FYE ON HAWAII.

The Maine Senator Talks Impressively on the Late Imrogro.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The senate held a two hours session yesterday, the whole of which was given to a speech by Senator Frye in opposition to President Cleveland's Hawaiian policy.

The chiefs of royal blood had died out in 1874, when Kalakaua was elected king. After that for a time there was peace on the islands. But he named his sister, Liliuokalani, as successor to the throne, and she immediately began scheming for the overthrow of her brother. She was unsuccessful, but death made her unanswerable.

The Louisian lottery, to get a foothold in Hawaii, offered the queen $500,000 and an annual payment to her if she would get the company established on the islands. She yielded to the temptation and made every effort to this end. Her constitutional power was not sufficient to accomplish this while the legislature was opposed to it, so she endeavored to assume absolute power by overthrowing the constitution. Madea by her success, Liliuokalani took the final step which forever ended the monarchy on the islands, said Mr. Frye. "She undertook to promulgate a new constitution, taking from the people the right of self-government, depriving the native men of their property and reducing the best men and women to abject slavery."

Mr. Frye read the letter of President Casimir-Périer with the result already told. Captain Beauchamp has been recalled and given a year's leave.

"How Well You Look"

Friends Surprised at the Wonderful Improvement.

"C. L. Head & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I take pleasure in writing the good I have received from taking Hood's Sarapilla. Every spring and summer for six years or more, my health has been so poor from heat trouble and general debility that at times the was a burden. I would seem so

Emaciated and Weak and Pale that my friends thought I would not live long. I could do scarcely any work at all and had to lie down every few minutes. I began getting worse in January, losing my flesh and feeling so tired. I thought I would try Hood's Sarapilla and I am happy to say I am in better health now than I have been for a number of years. My friends remark to me, 'Why so well? Why look so good?' I tell them it is Hood's Sarapilla. It has done the work. I would have all suffering humanity give this medicine a trial and be convinced. This statement is True to the Letter."

Five Famous Etchings.

The passenger department of the New York Central has just issued a series of five beautiful etchings, which artistically outrank anything of the kind ever issued by a railroad company, while the absence of any advertising feature renders them suitable for hanging in your office, library or home.

A brief description of each, with a glance at their titles, is all that is necessary to obtain a fair idea of the pictures.

No. 1—"Washington Bridge," which spans the Harlem river at 191st street—one of the finest bridges in the world, and a marvel of engineering. In the distance is Highbridge, the Croton aqueduct. In the foreground a characteristic river scene, that will be recognized by any one at all familiar with the locality.
